

Editors' Picks: 9 Things to See in New York This Week

Sarah Fuhrman's Salo, me & mine. Image courtesy the artist.

6. "Sarah Fuhrman: Complex Possessed" at Slag Gallery

Sarah Fuhrman is a Brooklyn-based painter, whose canvases are a blend of whimsy, satire, ecology, and behavioral studies, on display at the Bushwick-based Slag Gallery. The works contain nods to art historical movements and themes, which Fuhrman injects with contemporary references to social and political events.

Location: Slag Gallery, 56 Bogart Street

Price: Free

Time: Opening reception, 7 p.m.–9 p.m.; Thursday–Sunday, 1 p.m.–6 p.m.

—Caroline Goldstein